The provisions herein shall be effective as of the dates hereinafter set forth.

1. PREAMBLE

4. PROGRAM EXCERPTS AND USES

A. Amend Paragraph 7. A. 4., to increase the length of an excerpt for promotional purposes from 1 minute to 2 minutes.

B. Add a new Paragraph A.9., as follows: Payment of the initial minimum compensation shall give the Producer the right to use excerpts from covered programs produced under this or any prior Public Television Agreement for delivery to schools and students, (including pre-schools and day care centers) by way of the Internet or otherwise, for use as part of a Public Television Company created curriculum (e.g., Teachers' Domain and OnCourse). For example, if WGBH creates a lesson plan on the Civil War, clips from different Civil War programs would be shown in conjunction with written material. Such use shall include an acknowledgement to AFTRA for permitting the use of such clips.

In no event shall any such excerpt exceed six (6) minutes in length.

This provision shall sunset upon the expiration of this Extension in order to review the applicability of this provision during the term.

5. HEALTH AND RETIREMENT FUNDS

Contributions to the AFTRA Health and Retirement Fund shall be made in accordance with percentages and caps set forth in Paragraph 102 of the AFTRA Network Television Code.

6. LIMITATION ON USE AND SUPPLEMENTAL MARKETS

Amend Paragraph 24.A.2., to provide that in the event a program is exhibited on the Internet on a subscription or per picture basis, and when there are payments in exchange for the right to view the program for a fixed or limited period of time, like a program made for pay television, then the definition of Pay Television in the PTV Agreement shall be deemed to include the Internet. The percentage of distributor's gross receipts paid for pay television exhibition shall also be made for such Internet exhibition. This percentage rate for Internet exhibition shall be 3.6%, inclusive of the Health and Retirement contribution, for all types of programs. If a program is exhibited on the Internet only and not also on Pay Television, the differential payment that is ordinarily due would not be paid until such time as other supplemental market payments would become due. For new programs produced and exhibited in the manner set forth above and for license agreements for Internet only which are entered into on or after June 1, 2004, the applicable percentage shall be 3.6% plus the applicable Health and Retirement contribution.

This provision shall sunset upon the expiration of this Extension in order to review the applicability of this provision during the term.

This is for the initial release period only and such election must be made at the time of the engagement. This provision shall sunset upon the expiration of this Extension in order to review the applicability of this provision during the term.
